MUST SHOW CAUSE.

This Action Taken at Request of At. torneys for Cherokees.

Washington, Jan. 5.—On application of attorneys representing the Cherokee tribe of Indians the supreme court of the District of Columbia has ordered that cause be shown by Jan. 18 why injunctions should not be issued against Secretary Hitchcock and Commissioner of Indian Affairs Leupp to restrain them from a partition of the lands allotted to the Cherokees among the members of the tribe born since 1902. The application represents that in 1902 each of the 39,000 members of the tribe were given 110 acres from the allotment of 4,500,000 acres and the equal share of the $1,500,000 then in the United States treasury to the credit of the tribe. The interior department, the petitioners allege, has decided to distribute the remainder of the land, 220,000 acres, among the 2,061 children of the tribe born since 1902. The petition contends that this is illegal, and that there should be another distribution of the property to members who secured a portion of their share in 1902.

SHIP CATCHES FIRE.

Four Passengers Suffocated, Some Drowned, but Majority Saved.

Christiana, Jan. 5.—News was received here of a disaster which overtook the mail steamer Lindholm, which plies between this port and Bergen, off Far Sand. The steamer was discovered to be on fire. A strong gale was blowing at the time and the flames soon spread to the saloons and cabins. Thirty passengers most of them seafarers, hurried from their quarters to get on deck. Four of them were suffocated in their efforts to get out. Others jumped overboard, and one was drowned. One passenger went mad. One life boat was burned and another was crushed against the side of the ship. Finally, while the remainder of the half dressed and panic stricken passengers were huddled on the forecastle in a blinding snowstorm, the rest of the ship being in flames, the captain drove the vessel ashore and managed to save the remaining passengers and the crew. There was much hardship, however, before all on the ship were landed safely.

SMALL MAJORITY AGAINST BAILEY.

Antis Won by Between 100 and 125 With About 2000 Votes Polled. Vote Was Light and Day Quiet.

At 11 o'clock last night the Eagle received a telephone message from the Austin Statesman stating that about 2000 votes were polled in the Travis county second primary yesterday, the anti-Bailey forces carrying the county by a majority of between 100 and 125.

The election was quiet and not much general interest manifested, as shown by the fact that the vote of Travis county in the July primaries was 4800.

HANGED AND RIDDLED

Quick Vengeance Meted Out to a Self-Confessed Wretch.

ENTERS LADY'S ROOM

Miss King's Screams Bring Succor and Will Scott Runs Away, but Is Captured by Citizens and Now a Corpse.

Eufaula, Ala., Jan. 5.—Will Scott, a negro, was lynched at Midway, Ala., Friday afternoon by a posse of indignant citizens. He was hanged to a tree and his body riddled with bullets. The negro, who appears to have been a well known character in the community, and who had only recently returned from the penitentiary, on Wednesday night entered the room of Miss Morrell King at Midway by pushing open one of the shutters, and had grasped her hand before she awoke. He screams attracted the other inmates of the house, and the negro escaped. A posse immediately set out after the negro and captured him Thursday. When brought to Midway Thursday morning he made a full confession and the lynching followed. It is learned that a similar attempt was made to enter the room of two other young women at Midway a short time ago, and the citizens were aroused. Miss King is a daughter of Lem King, a banker.

Much Wanted Man Arrested. Philadelphia, Jan. 5.—R. C. Flower, alias C. G. Dailey, who has been a fugitive from New York since 1903, where he is wanted to answer charges of grand larceny and swindling credulous investors of about $1,000,000 on alleged bogus mining operations, was arrested in this city Friday.

To Be Published in April. Hamburg, Jan. 5.—The Neue Hamburger Zeitung today says it learns that General Kuropatkin's history of the Russo-Japanese war, which was confiscated in Russia Dec. 18, will be published in Leipzig in April.

War and Other Claims. Washington, Jan. 5.—The house Friday considered in committee of the whole measures relating to war and other claims.

FOSTER'S WEATHER BULLETIN.

(Copyrighted 1906, by W. T. Foster.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbances to cross continent 9 to 13, warm wave 8 to 14, cool wave 11 to 15. Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about 14, cross west of Rockies country by close of 15, great central valleys 16 to 18, eastern states 19. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about 14, great central valleys 16, eastern states 18. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about 17, great central valleys 19, eastern states 21.

This will be one of the three great disturbances of the month. It will be inaugurated by a great high temperature wave and spring-like weather and close with a misery making cold wave and blizzard. Weather features will begin to grow more radical not far from Jan. 11 and from that to close of the month no rest for those who may become weary of strenuous weather.

The cold wave referred to will be much like that of Dec. 21 to 25, covering a large extent of country and very severe. The path of this Jan. cold wave will probably lie south of the Dec. cold wave path. With and following this disturbance precipitation will largely increase to end of January.

Weather features immediately following Jan. 5 will be quiet as compared with past and present month but still more radical than the average of many years. Generally, or over the whole continent, temperatures of the second week of this month will average higher than usual and the trend of temperature will be upward till the low, due on meridian 90 about 17, shall have passed. Temperatures of the two weeks following 17 will average much lower than the temperatures of the two preceding weeks.

SOCIAL and Club Matters

Thursday afternoon a number of lady friends gave Mrs. M. W. Sims a very pleasant surprise by arriving unannounced at her home and proceeding to have a merry party with the hostess as the honoree. A cordial and hearty welcome was extended by Mrs. Sims and her daughters, Mrs. Chas. H. Mills of Corsicana and Mrs. J. Fred Smith of Dallas, the three ladies being never at a loss to exemplify the most perfect hospitality, even when taken by surprise. Tables were soon arranged and the ladies engaged in playing five hundred and social chat. While they were thus engaged the hostess made a counter move in the surprise line and soon had before them tempting refreshments. The ladies who found and gave pleasure by their unexpected visit were Mesdames J. T. Hanway, F. M. Law, Clark Winslow of Galveston, C. E. Stickley of Purcell, I. T., Jno. B. Hines, T. K. Lawrence, G. M. Brandon, Frank Clarke, Gus. Street of Houston, J. A. McQueen, M. W. Sims Jr.

The skating rink was the pronounced social and amusement center during the past week. There were private parties on several evenings from 10 to 12 o'clock. Monday evening a party skated the old year out and the new one in. The writer acknowledges the courtesy of an invitation to the rink Friday evening when a party of eighteen or twenty young men invited a number of friends to join in an evening of pleasure.

Monday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Buchanan was the scene of a merry party given by their daughters, Misses Bessie and Blanche Buchanan, to watch the old year out and the New Year in. Social diversions and refreshments made the evening one of great pleasure for the young people. Present were Misses Irma Harris, Adeline Sanders, Gertrude Eaves, Laura Dunlap, Gussie Buchanan, Bessie and Blanche Buchanan; Messrs. Mat Bethel, Tom Adams, Price Jones, L. H. Lempert, Roger Nall, Evans, Roy Buchanan.

Agreement Arrived At.
Montgomery, Ala., July 5.—The council and Traction company have agreed upon a "Jim crow" law that will have the effect of keeping negroes and whites separated, but at the same time allowing them to ride in the same car. The negroes are to fill the car from the rear and the whites at the front, except that whites are to have two seats at the front not to be used by negroes at all.

Has Been Transferred.
Washington, Jan. 5.—By executive order the military reservation of Fort Davis, Tex., embracing about 300 acres of land in Presidio county, having become useless for military purposes, it has been transferred to the control of the secretary of the interior for disposition under the law of July 5, 1884.

Direct Appeals to the Supreme Court
Washington, Jan. 5.—It was stated at the department of justice that appeals will be taken direct to the supreme court of the United States in behalf of the cases under the employers' liability act, which was recently decided to be unconstitutional.

Riots in Spain.

BLOWN INTO PIECES.

Man Hurts a Bombs and Is Torn
All to Atoms.

KILLS OFFICER ALSO

Individual Endeavored to Procure
Large Sum From Bank Presi-
and Resors to Most Awful Vengeance.

Philadelphia, Jan. 5.—Shortly before noon Saturday an unknown man hurled a bomb in the Fourth Street National bank, resulting in an explosion which tore the bomb thrower to pieces and killed W. Z. McLean, assistant cashier. Several other employees of the bank and patrons were injured.

The bomb thrower had demanded money from President Richard Rushton. When this was refused he took a missile from under his coat and hurled it at Mr. Rushton. A slight fire followed the explosion and tenants in the building in which the bank is located fled from their offices. The police were quickly on hand and they placed the vaults and securities of the institution under a heavy guard.

President Rushton, after the explosion, rushed to the eighth floor of the building from the street floor to the rooms of the Down Town Club, a dining organization. He was very much excited, trembling like a leaf. He told the following story: "A man giving his name as G. E. Williams, shabbily dressed, giving no place of residence, came into my office and asked me to lend him $5,000. I was busy looking over some papers on my desk at the time and I paid but little attention to what the man said. He sat there looking at me very curiously until I became suspicious that he was a crank and asked him to excuse me for a minute while I went into another office. As I left the man arose and went over to the cashier's window. I noticed him talking to the cashier, but do not know what he told him. The explosion followed next. I did not see the man throw the bomb, but I have every reason to suppose that he did throw it. My cashier, W. Z. McLean, was killed outright. The explosion caused great excitement among us all. Glass flew from smashed windows and fell in showers over us and four or five women among the employees, who rushed for the door. I understand that six or seven people were injured, but I do not know how seriously."

Mr. Rushton left the Down Town club and returned to the first floor, where friends summoned a carriage and sent him to his home.

THAW'S TRIAL.

From the Prosecution's Standpoint It
Will Be a Short One.

New York, July 5.—According to an announcement made Saturday it is practically settled in the district attorney's office just what will be done by the prosecution in presenting its case against Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White at Madison Square Roof Garden theater. From the prosecution's standpoint the trial will be a short one. About five witnesses will be examined in presenting the direct case. These witnesses will tell of the shooting and the events that happened at the theater. It should not take more than a few hours, it is said, for the prosecution to put in its entire case. It will be simply the story of the killing, showing that while watching the performance Thaw shot White without any chance of the latter defending himself. The idea is to have the defense explain the killing. There have been many stories printed giving conjectures as to what the defense will be, but Thaw's counsel have made no statement regarding this point.

Unless there is a change in the present plans the crucial part of the trial will come in rebuttal. For that preparation has been made by the district attorney's office. Assistant District Attorney Garvin, who has charge of the Thaw case, has left nothing undone to run down every story and rumor, no matter how improbable it appears on its face. As a result there will be an accumulation of evidence which may surprise the defense.

District Attorney Jerome will have charge of the trial, assisted by Mr. Garvin.

NO NEWS OF STEAMER.

Life Rafts With City of Panama's Name Thrown Come Ashore.

San Francisco, Jan. 5.—Two life rafts marked "City of Panama" came ashore at Wardwell Beach, sixteen miles west of Pescadero. There were on the rafts boat hooks, a barrel of water and a box of crackers. Two and a half miles below Wardwell Beach two more rafts similarly equipped came ashore also. Off the shore a large quantity of wreckage was seen floating. Both of the latter rafts, it is said, were also marked with that Pacific Mail liner's name.

It is known that the steamer, on leaving here Monday in the teeth of a heavy northwest gale, had some trouble on the bar, as she stopped there for a time before proceeding on her way south. The City of Panama is one of the oldest vessels of the Pacific Mail fleet, and is commanded by Captain A. W. Nelson. The vessel carried besides the captain, First Officer Pillsbury, formerly commander of the Manchuria; two other officers, a freight clerk and storekeeper and a crew of twelve. Fifteen men were in the engineer's department and eight in the steward's department. In all the crew numbered fifty-six. There were fifty-six passengers on board. Had the City of Panama continued uninterruptedly on her way she would have been due Friday at Mazatlan, Mex., her first port call. The Pacific Mail boats take the outer course from San Francisco down, generally keeping outside of Santa Barbara Channel Island and standing well off the shore until they reach the end of the Peninsula of Lower California. There they turn into anchor off the Bay of Mazatlan.

The above rate will cover only the service performed by the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway company. Shipments originating or terminating at industries not on the rails of said company switching charges shall be added.

VARIAS EXECUTED.

Mexican Who Killed White Girl at Baird, Tex., Forfeits His Life.

Baird, Tex., Jan. 5.—Alberto Vargas, the Mexican who stabbed a young white woman to death at a local hotel was hanged here Friday. Vargas faced the audience east of the scaffold and talked to the crowd first in Spanish. Judge E. M. Overhiner of Abilene was present and after Vargas had spoken a few words in Spanish or Mexican, interpreted Vargas' speech to the audience, the interpretation in part being as follows:

"He talked very rapidly, and it is impossible for me to tell you all, just exactly as he said it, but well as I remember the interpretation, in part, being as follows:

"He said this was his last moment, and that he was prepared to die, and he wished he could talk in English to make his speech plain to the audience. He said he was a pure-blooded Mexican, and that he hoped the execution would be an example to everybody. The road to crime, he said, is like a stairway or funnel shape, small in the beginning, but expanding the further one went (Vargas, as an illustration, used a paper and made the funnel), and when one is in the descending stairway or in the funnel it was impossible to break away, and that on account of the opening in the funnel being too small it is impossible for all to get in, and that every one who entered this funnel would find themselves in the midst of crime."

Vargas then addressed the audience, again speaking in Broken English, as follows:

"I cannot talk English like Mexican, but I am ready to go."

A Catholic priest, Rev. Father Schauf, attended him.

During the beginning of Vargas' talk he spoke very earnestly, partly weeping in the midst of the speech. He asked that his hands be released, which were handcuffed, so that he could get his handkerchief. At 2:13 the black cap was placed over his head. Then Vargas said good-bye, using these words: "Good-bye, gentlemen and women." As the jailer was placing the noose over Vargas' head and tightening same, he asked Vargas if the rope was too tight, and Vargas promptly answered "No."

The crime for which Vargas was executed occurred Oct. 19 last. Miss Emma Blakely of this place, who had for some time been working at a local hotel, started to enter the dining room bearing a tray of dishes, when Vargas, who had been employed as help around the hotel, suddenly sprang from behind a screen that separated the dining room from the kitchen and stabbed Miss Blakely with a butcher knife, killing her instantly. The evidence adduced on the trial showed that he had for days contemplated the deed, as he seemed to have been in love with the young lady, although no one, not even the waitress, suspected it.
